Come into the garden, friend, for we adore it and wish to share its treasures with thee;
We feel did thee know its secrets and charm, it would make thy world-worn soul care free.
Ah! friend, keep in time with its melody and sweet moods, for we assure thee of quiet influences eyes cannot see,
For, friend, a garden close is a place of delight filled with fragrance and beauty wondrous lovely.
And, friend, at the twilight's holy hush may your heart, with our hearts, breathe its perfume in prayer;
Beseech we receive its blessing, "that peace which the world cannot give," nor care,
For, friend, a garden is ever the gift and a benediction from God
For He, too, found peace at the cool of the eve as He walked over its dew-pearled sod."

Announcement

IT has been a great pleasure in the past to serve those who desire the very finest quality in flower bulbs and now I consider myself fortunate to be able to offer you the very same superior bulbs at prices far below all previous rates.

You have my book "Beauty from Bulbs" in which many leading varieties are illustrated. There is nothing I can add in words, descriptions or color photographs to give you a better conception of the quality of my bulbs. These I now offer to you at exceptional prices, listed in this schedule, confining my presentation to the simple listing of varieties, with easy page reference to the descriptions in this book. I can only suggest that you compare them with the prices you paid previously. Should your book have been misplaced, I shall be glad to send you, without charge, another copy.

In announcing these amazing values, I make no claim to compete with cheaper grades. The standard quality, which has won me recognition, shall be maintained. It is, however, most important that your order be sent at once; it may not be possible to maintain these prices after July 15, in view of the impending inflation and the decree issued by the Holland Government, ordering the destruction of one third of the existing bulb crop, to stabilize prices. This will, of course, result in a shortage of quality bulbs this fall and a sharp advance in cost, but all orders booked prior to July fifteenth will be executed at the prices listed in this schedule.

Climaxing our thirty years of building public confidence, comes this incomparable opportunity. You will, I trust, take advantage of this to secure bulbs of supreme quality at supremely low cost.

JOHN T. SCHEEPERS,

June 1, 1933.

With the cost of the finest material brought within the reach of every purse, let us make our gardens as beautiful as we can, filling them with the flowers of our choice, so essential to peace and happiness.

Today more than ever, do we need the encouragement and inspiration found in the garden, which means so much to our home life.

The true value of any merchandise is measured by that degree to which it fulfills the desire of the purchaser.

A Few Suggestions

Grass in which bulbs are planted must on no account be cut until the foliage has turned yellow.

Bulbs planted elsewhere than in grass should be given a mulch of leaves or leaf soil in winter.

Manure, save very old and rotted stuff, is generally injurious to bulbs. Bonemeal is a better fertilizer for them.

No bulb should be lifted before foliage has completely ripened. But it may then be taken up and replanted at once if desired.

The ground should be dry when bulbs are set out; a wet bed before they have begun to grow is injurious to them.

A good rule for planting is three times their own depth.

Generally speaking bulbs should be planted more deeply in light sandy soils than in those of a heavy and clayey nature.

Daffodils, Wood Hyacinths, Heavenly Blue Grape Hyacinths and Leucojums, because of the untidy effect of their strong foliage when ripening are not suitable for planting in the middle of the lawns. Crocuses, Scilla Sibirica and Snowdrops are better for the purpose.

All species of Chionodoxas, Eranthis and Galanthus will thrive in the shade of Beech or Evergreen trees, which is true of few bulbous plants.

Naturalizing bulbs in woods and fields, orchards, and meadows enables us to increase our spring delight a thousand-fold.

Bulbs are an investment that increases year by year in value as certainly as the seasons turn.
